Dr Senadin Musabegović graduated 1999 in political philosophy at the Sienna University in the class of Prof. Steven Lukes with a thesis entitled “Subject, Power, Mask” in which he tackles the phenomenon of the body and its politicisation in the philosophy of Deleuze, Foucault and Nietzsche. He defended his doctorate thesis entitled “War—Reconstruction of the Totalitarian Body” at the European Institute in Florence in 2004 in front of a following committee: Prof. Peter Wagner, Prof. Bo Strath, Prof Steven Lukes and Prof Tvrtko Kulenović. His theses was reworked into the book and published in 2009 in Bosnian under the title Rat: konstitucija totalitarnog tijela (publisher Svjetlost, Sarajevo). Musabegović published theoretical works in international magazines and books and held lectures as a guest professor at European and American universities. He is a professor at the Art History Department, School of Philosophy, University of Sarajevo teaching courses in Sociology of Culture and Art Theory. Books by the author: Rat-konstitucija totalitarnog tijela. (social culture and visual theory), Sarajevo: Svjetlost, 2008. Rajska lopata. (collection of poems), Sarajevo: Zoro 2004. Odrastanje Domovine. (collection of poems), Sarajevo: Svjetlost 1999. (French transl.: Grandissement de la patrie. Toulouse: N&B, 2002; Italian transl. : La polvere sui gunati del chirurgo. (with introduction by Erri de Luca and Ginevra Bompiani), Roma: Infinito, 2007.). Udarci tijela.